

S. Kelley Bryant

Architect

Ms. Bryant has been working on high-end residential architecture projects for more than two decades.

From 1995-1997 Kelley co-managed the coordination of documents to be submitted to the Belgium Landmarks Department for approval of the proposed design and renovation of a villa in Brussels. Some of her landmark commercial projects include working on the team responsible for the detail construction drawings of the store interiors and the freestanding furniture for Christian Dior, Paris; Emporio Armani, London and New York; Donna Karan, London; Luis Vuitton, London and Paris.

Prior to joining CJW Kelley was Senior Architect at Peterson Architects in San Francisco from 2001-2011 where she supervised and managed the construction of high-end residential projects, commercial projects and oversaw the production of design & development drawings and construction documents. Her responsibilities included all phases of project planning and design from initial client meetings, construction phase site visits to final punch list and client move in. Projects included multiple houses and commercial spaces in the Silicone Valley area.
